

Miosis

Miosis means narrowing of the pupil of the human eye . Mediates the sphincter pupillae muscle , innervated by the parasympathetic nerve from the Edinger-Westphal nucleus. It changes the amount of light that hits the retina, increases the depth of field, and facilitates the outflow of aqueous humor into Schlemm's canal.

Links

Related articles

- Mydriasis

References

- AMBLER, Zdeněk. Základy neurologie. 6. edition. Galén, 2006. ISBN 80-7262-433-4.